3 Red Armies Reach Odessa

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, April 6 (AP)—Russian storm troops pushed into the suburbs of Odessa today, and the roar of battle echoed throughout the city. Gen. Malinovsky's cavalry and light tanks drove on the great Black sea port from three directions, front line dispatches said, advancing from positions which last night were only nine miles from the heart of the metropolis.

The right flank of Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army pushed through the quagmires west of the city heading for the Odessa-Ovidopol spur railway—last remaining escape route to Rumania for the Nazis, dispatches said.

Even if the trapped Germans and Rumanians succeed in reaching Ovidopol, they must still make the hazardous trip by ferry to Akkerman and thence by a winding single-track railway to Rumania.

CUT CHIEF WAY OUT

Malinovsky's cavalry and tanks had cut off the main escape route to Rumania by capturing Razdelnaya, 38 miles northwest of Odessa, and then pressing southwestward to take Strassburg which commands a side road from Odessa to Tiraspol on the lower Dniester river.

Four Red army pushes are being aimed at the heart of Odessa, but the units which are closest to the city appear to be advancing down the banks of Lake Kuialnitzki from the captured rail station of Kubanka, 14 miles away.

A Red Star dispatch said recent heavy rains have complicated ground conditions but that Malinovsky's cavalry and light tanks were solving that problem. It reported "big forces" of Germans tied up in the direction of Odessa and "violent fighting" raging on the approaches to the city.

IN THREE-DAY BLIZZARD

Northeast of Odessa, which the Russians have encircled, German and Russian groups in the Skala area and in Tarnopol, the merciless battle for their extermination has reached new fury with the end of the blizzard which has been sweeping southern Russia for three days.

The Russians were said to be seizing one street after another in Tarnopol, killing many Germans, while others threw down their arms.

Big Ploesti Oil Loss in Raid

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 6 (AP)—American heavy bombers and their fighter escorts shot down more than 40 enemy planes during yesterday's big raid on Ploesti, Rumania, Germany's main source of oil, headquarters announced today.

The main targets were rail yards choked with tank cars. Bombs were showered over tracks, rolling stock and adjacent buildings, causing many fires and explosions, an announcement said. Adjacent oil refineries also were hit.

Smaller formations of Fortresses and Liberators attacked railways at Nis and Leskovac in Yugoslavia as the Allies pursued a relentless campaign against German communications in the Balkans in coordination with the Russian land advance.

Twelve heavy bombers failed to return from air operations in all Mediterranean theaters yesterday.

While the raiders were occupied on distant targets mediums and fighter-bombers continued their intensive campaign against German communications in Italy. It was announced that all rail lines from northern Italy to the front area again have been cut and that the Germans have been unable to move through trains since March 28.

Air Marshal Sir John C. Slessor, deputy commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean Air Forces, discussing importance of the air campaign in the Balkans, said the Ploesti oil fields were vital to the Germans "on anything like a long term basis."

"The Germans could not possibly carry on without them," he said.

It was estimated the oil field installations were 40 per cent destroyed in last summer's big raid by U. S. Liberators from the Middle East but the Germans are said to have repaired most of that damage.

Slessor announced the total number of enemy planes shot down in Sunday's raid on Steyr, Austria, now has been found to total 157—by far the biggest bag ever scored by planes from the Mediterranean theater in one raid.

Allies in Italy Hit Supply Lines

NAPLES, April 6 (INS)—Allied patrols, jabbing at Nazi positions along the Itahan front, today inflicted heavy casualties on German troops.

The thrusts were made following a 48-hour artillery barrage which ripped German frontline areas, supply lines and communication arteries.

Fire Razes Plant

PORTLAND, Me., April 6 (AP)—A $50,000 general alarm fire destroyed the two-story brick and wooden building of the F. O. Bailey Company, manufacturers of store fixtures, early today in the downtown section of the city.

Invasion Date Set

By JAMES F. KING

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN, April 6 (AP)—"D" Day has been set.

The Allied western invasion timetable has been worked out to the minutest detail.

Only a few high-ranking officers know the date, however, and only a few will know it beforehand.

But topflight commanders in talks with their officers and men are being amazingly frank in some respects—even to the extent of telling the troops the job cut out for them.

Among American troops who will participate in the initial assault on Hitler's fortress a growing tenseness can be noticed.

In their barracks the soldiers talk among themselves but there is tremendous security consciousness among them when they are outside camp.

Ambush Japs In India Jungle

By JAMES E. BROWN

NEW DELHI, April 6 (INS)—Allied troops fighting deep within the Indian jungles to stave off a threat to their north Burma supply line inflicted heavy casualties on ambushed bands of Japanese today but failed to alleviate relentless enemy pressure.

Within Burma itself, however, American and Chinese forces scored new successes against the retreating Japs, with one airborne Commando force alone accounting for 35 enemy planes.

The main Jap thrust pressed steadily toward the Bengal-Assam railroad, lifeline of Allied forces in upper Burma after seizing a 15-mile strip of the main highway between the twin Indian supply base of Imphal and Kohima.

Allied Commandos struck Tuesday at the Aungban Field in central Burma, the communique revealed, destroying 24 enemy planes on the ground.

In the jungles of the upper Mogaung valley, Chinese detachments forced the Japs to yield two towns—Marangahtawng and Mihlogartawng. At last reports the Chungking forces were advancing on Wakawng.

Other Japanese defense positions near the junction of the Hpalu and Kathan rivers were reported collapsing.

Allied heavy bombers blasted Japanese headquarters and strategic objectives in the Moulmein region.

British and Indian troops 40 miles inside the Indian frontier fought to turn back the main enemy invasion column after other Allied units had checked subsidiary prongs pointed toward Imphal and Kohima.

Tank-supported enemy infantry wrested control of a 15-mile strip of the main highway linking those two Indian bastions. Other units pushed to points deep within the Naga hills. It is in that area the heaviest enemy drive developed, with advance columns reaching a point only 80 miles from Dimapur, pivot point of the Bengal-Assam rail line upon which Allied forces in upper Burma depend for much of their supplies.

(London morning newspapers reported the highway linking the railway terminal at Dimapur with Imphal has been cut by the Japanese.)

Severance of the Bengal-Assam line, which the U. S. Army Transportation Corps has been operating, would pose a serious problem of supply to Allied forces now advancing in upper Burma, observers admitted.

U. S. Planes Rip Pacific Bases

By the Associated Press

U. S. Fifth Air Force bombers dumped 206 tons of bombs Tuesday on Wewak, Northeast New Guinea, destroying 13 Jap planes on the ground and starting large fires without a shot being fired at them.

Australians moving toward the enemy's Madang base, southeast down the coast, were reported nine miles from Bogadjim, 20 miles south of Madang. An American contingent is 13 miles from Bogadjim.

In a day-long attack on well-pulverized Rabaul, New Britain, 150 medium and light bombers let go with 110 tons of bombs on airdromes and other Jap installations.

Mitchell bombers of the Seventh Army Air Force Monday gave Ponape, eastern Caroline Jap outpost, its 27th bombing since Valentine Day. Two Navy Liberators paid Wake a visit, Adm. Nimitz reported, sinking a small cargo vessel. Four enemy positions in the Marshalls were bombed.

Twenty-five Jap fighters not seven as first reported, were shot down by American Liberators over Truk Sunday. Fifth Army Air Force headquarters disclosed.

Toulouse Plants Hit By RAF Bombers

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—RAF heavy bombers, taking to the air for the first time in a week, last night blasted German aircraft repair plants at Toulouse in southern France, less than 50 miles from the Spanish border, the air ministry announced today.

"The targets were clearly seen in the moonlight and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective," the announcement said.

The Nazi-dominated Vichy radio reported today that "southwest France was bombed last night and 117 persons killed. An additional 45 persons allegedly were injured."

Last night's raid represented a roundtrip flight of at least 1000 miles, but despite the length of the journey all but one of the big bombers returned. Mines also were laid in enemy waters.

The assault capped a day in which the American forces sent fighters against the Berlin and Munich areas and heavy bombers to Rumania's Ploesti oil field region in a two-day strike from bases in Britain and the Mediterranean.

Eight fighters of the U. S. Eighth Air Force failed to return from yesterday's operations over Germany, a U. S. communique said last night, but formations of Liberators which hit the Pas de Calais Coast came back without a single plane lost.

BULLETIN

LONDON, April 6 (INS)—German radio transmitters today broadcast a warning that Allied bombers were flying in the direction of southeast Germany.

Reds Raid Finn Town

STOCKHOLM, April 6 (INS)—Dispatches from Helsinki said Russian planes last night attacked Joensuu, in eastern Finland, 70 miles northwest of Lake Ladoga.

Boom Dewey As Nominee

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A presidential nomination without strings floated enticingly close before Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York today as Wendell L. Willkie quit the Republican race after losing a long-shot gamble for Wisconsin delegates.

Dewey, who reached for the prize at Philadelphia in 1940 only to find Willkie had grabbed it, stood far out as the leading possibility for the nomination in the wake of Willkie's dramatic bow out of a contest on which he had spent most of his efforts for the last four years.

Baltimore's Republican mayor, Theodore R. McKeldin, declared Dewey "is a 100 per cent candidate" after conferring with him in New York. Dewey was "very pleased" McKeldin said, with assurances he had Maryland's support for the nomination.

Willkie failed to win a delegate in Wisconsin, where 15 pledged Dewey representatives were elected despite the New York Governor's previous plea for them to withdraw. The 1940 nominee threw in the sponge with the announcement that it was obvious he could not be nominated after his decisive setback in Wisconsin.

Characteristically, Dewey busied himself at Albany with a stack of legislative bills and said nothing about his future plans—a silence some of his backers said he might maintain up to the time of the June nominating convention. He has said he is not a candidate—but never that he would not accept.

While others thought the pressure for a statement to the effect that he would take a proffered nomination might become too great to withstand, intimates of the Governor said he had made up his mind that if he is to be the standard bearer, he does not want to owe his selection to any individual or single element in

WENDELL L. WILLKIE
As He Announced Withdrawal

Back to N. Y.

OMAHA, April 6 (AP)—Anything that Wendell Willkie does is "one thousand per cent" all right with Mrs. Willkie.

That's what she said last night as she threaded her way through crowds of well wishers on the city auditorium stage after her husband had announced he was withdrawing as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

"We're going back to live in our home in New York," Mrs. Willkie said.

Girl's Hysteria Told in Hug Suit

SALEM, April 6—Evelyn Turner, 23-year-old former night club cigarette girl, was screaming and hysterical for 15 minutes after she knocked on a Saugus householder's door at 2 a. m., May 11 1943, to ask help and tell of being hurled from an automobile, it was testified in superior court today.

Miss Turner, who lives in Woodrow ave., Dorchester, is suing Delmont E. Goding, 35, chairman of the Saugus board of assessors, for $10,000 damages, asserting he threw her from his car after she repulsed his advances. Her suit charges him with "willful, wanton and reckless misconduct."

I. E. Goding

On the stand today was Charles G. Swan of Essex st, Saugus, meat market proprietor. He said he was awakened at 1 o'clock on the morning of the alleged assault.

"Someone was kicking on my door," he related. "I went to it and heard a woman's voice. I telephoned police. Then I saw the woman leave and go across the street to the home of Mrs. Ethel Griffith and knock.

"When the police came," Swan added, "I went over to Mrs. Griffith's house."

He said he noticed the former night club girl had a gash behind one ear.

"She was hysterical and screaming for all of 15 minutes," he testified.

Her counsel, Atty. Charles A. Kane, told Judge Raul H. Beaudreau and a jury that the young cigarette girl and the Saugus town officials first met in a Newburyport turnpike night club where she was employed last May 17, shortly after the club closed at 1 a. m., Goding offered to drive her home, he contined. The two had had a few highballs together, he added.

In front of her home, Kane declared, Goding stopped the car and attempted to hug and kiss Miss Turner. When she resisted, he said, Goding drove the car out to Essex st., again stopped and tried to force his attentions on her.

Miss Turner fought him violently, Atty. Kane said, and screamed and cried out for help. Goding, he continued, opened the door of the car and pushed Miss Turner into a gutter where she fell and cut her face and head.

First witness in the trial was Mrs. Ella Nason of Essex st., Saugus. Mrs. Nason testified that early in the morning of May 18 she heard the scream of a woman in front of her home. Investigating, she said, she saw Miss Turner lying in the gutter, her face covered with blood.

Church Battles Sex Education in Schools

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Opposition to the government's plan for sex education in schools was expressed by the Roman Catholic Church in Britain, which proposed instead the education of parents so they could privately inform their children.

"Our aim ought to be to lessen rather than to increase artificial stimulation of the erotic emotions," said a statement signed by the archbishops.

Soldier Seized In Breaks

A soldier from Camp Breakhart, Melrose, was captured by Saugus police today and charged with breaking and entering and larceny of $18 from a Saugus home, and Malden and Melrose authorities obtained warrants for his arrest on burglary charges in those cities.

Pvt. Andrew E. Henderson, who gave his home as Tenth st., Washington, was arraigned in Lynn court on the Saugus charge.

According to Melrose police, Henderson broke into the home of Frederick C. Newton, Wyoming Heights, and was prowling through the house when an outcry from one of the family sent him scurrying out a window.

A few hours later, Malden police said, Mrs. A. W. Jester of Auburn st., Malden, was awakened by a soldier standing in her bedroom, holding a long-bladed knife.

Mrs. Jester roused her husband and told him to get his gun. The soldier fled out the back door, dropping the knife. A purse containing $75 on the dining room table was overlooked.

Police said the soldier had been drinking earlier in a Newburyport turnpike cafe.

Byrd-Farley Ticket Urged

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Expressing doubt President Roosevelt would seek a fourth term, Sen. Bailey (D.) of North Carolina today proposed a Byrd-Farley ticket for the Democrats.

Bailey said:

"I seriously question whether President Roosevelt will seek a fourth term. I think most of the delegates probably will be for him, but I question whether he will run."

He suggested Sen. Byrd (D.) of Virginia and James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman, "would make a fine ticket and the Democrats could win with them."

In announcing his support of Byrd, he added: "I'm not drafting anybody—I'm nominating Byrd."

Rose O'Neill, Kewpie Doll Creator, Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 6 (AP)—Rose O'Neill, artist-creator of the Kewpie doll, died today at the home of relatives. She was about 69 years old.

Miss O'Neill, former wife of Harry Leon Wilson, humorist-author, designed the Kewpie in 1909 and it made her a fortune estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Chief Divorce Cause

Why, It's Twin Beds, Declares Judge

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Twin beds, says Judge Frank Donohue of women's court, are an "unholy system" and they should be thrown out of American homes.

"The invention, innovation or introduction of twin beds into the marital boudoir has caused more dissension, distrust and disunity resulting in divorce than any other single factor," Judge Donohue said yesterday after assessing a $200 fine against a childless couple on charges of disorderly conduct.

"This unholy system has resulted in millions of childless homes and of multiplying divorce actions."

He said the decline of the nation starts with the disintegration of the family and urged "government subsidies for the full use of a good old-fashioned marital bed," and suggested legislation against twin beds.

4-F Job Shift Step Nearer

WASHINGTON, April 6 (INS)—The House Military Affairs Committee took another step today in its plans to channel 4-F's into war production. The committee issued a statement calling on the War Manpower Commission to:

1—Furnish selective service with a list of activities "appropriate" for classifying 4-F registrants as industrially deferred.

2—Prepare a list of areas in which manpower shortages exist, and specify names of particular industries and plants requiring additional help.

The committee then called on 4-F's between 18 and 26 to try to get war work in their own localities. If they are unable to find such work, the committee said they should notify their draft boards of their willingness to accept war work when and where they are needed.

Committee members said if WMC makes lists available to selective service and local draft boards, the channeling of 4-F volunteers into the war effort will be speeded.

Meanwhile, work went forward on drawing up a 4-F labor draft bill—which would provide deferments for men who get into essential industry.

The statement followed a conference of seven committee members, including Rep. May (D.) of Kentucky, chairman, and Rep. Costello (D.) of California, chairman of a subcommittee on draft deferment, with Draft Chief Lewis B. Hershey.

Costello said "if a million 4-F's will shift into war work we won't need any legislation."

ROBERT J. FORDHAM
Navy Flier Wins Air Medal

Hub Air Hero Tells of Tarawa

They don't pass out many air medals—honor wings, they're sometimes called—for only extraordinary achievement earns them. But Robert John Fordham, 23, of Dorchester ave., South Boston, wears his with modest pride, and squirms when anyone calls him "hero."

But "hero" he is, and it was on the bloody shores of Tarawa, where as aerial gunner on a dive bomber he participated in the opening offensive in the Gilberts, that he won his entry into the glorious fraternity of war valiants.

Only by the air medal, and from the conventional words of the Presidential citation he received, can one gather the courage of young Fordham during those terrible moments over Tarawa. He says little.

"As combat aircrewman of the attack group," reads the citation, "he participated in five strikes against the Japanese bases at Wake Island, and later at Gilbert Islands. These attacks, delivered in the face of anti-aircraft fire, resulted in extensive damage to shore installations, and in addition at Tarawa successfully supported landing operations."

Today, Fordham is studying engineering as a Navy student at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Churchill Puts Off Decision on Eden Job

LONDON, April 6 (INS)—Prime Minister Churchill has postponed his decision on the question of relieving Anthony Eden of his foreign secretaryship so that he may concentrate on other important duties, the diplomatic writer of the London Daily Mail reported.

Reports that Lord Beaverbrook is a candidate for the post have been categorically denied, said the paper.

War on War Time Starts

WASHINGTON, April 6 (INS)—Hearing on his bill to put the United States back on Standard Time will start after Congress' Easter recess, Rep. Clarence Cannon (D.) of Missouri, announced he described War Time as "the most unpopular, wasteful and confusing measure" of the war.

Waste of more electricity than it has conserved was credited to the War Time measure by Cannon.

Eden Partly Lifts Parliament Ban

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Foreign Secy. Anthony Eden announced today the lifting of a ban on advance publication of Parliament's meeting dates. Eden said after the Easter recess sessions would be resumed on April 18.

Censorship, however, still would not let it be said when the Easter recess begins.

Parade to Honor Boston Bataan Kin

Hundreds of mothers and other relatives of Bataan heroes will be especially honored in Boston's observance of Bataan Day Easter Sunday, when a military parade and impressive exercises on Boston Common will commemorate the second anniversary of Bataan's fall.

As guests of Gov. Saltonstall and Mayor Tobin, they will review the parade from the steps of the State House, and later at the exercises on MacArthur Mall will occupy a section specially reserved for them by the Mayor.

The Bataan mothers will assemble in the Hall of Flags at the State House at 2 p. m.

Mrs. John S. Parker, director of the Greater Boston Prisoners of War Relatives Ass'n, and C. Wilson Anderson, director of the Home Dept., American Red Cross, will furnish them with all available information concerning Japanese prisoners.

Col. John J. Carew, Medford's hero of two wars, will be chief marshal of the parade which will be reviewed on MacArthur Mall by Mayor Tobin and distinguished guests. The program on the Common starts at 3 p. m., with Lieut. Leona Gastinger, Army nurse veteran of Bataan, as the orator.

Other speakers will include Mayor Tobin, who will read a message from Pres. Manuel Quezon of the Philippine Commonwealth, and Cong. John W. McCormack of South Boston, majority leader in the House at Washington.

The Bataan Club of Boston will conduct special memorial exercises tomorrow night in the clubrooms, Columbus sq., South End. Prominent speakers and a concert will be included.

Seek Way Out For Italy's King

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

NAPLES, April 6 (AP)—Leaders of six anti-Fascist political parties sought a formula today for their entrance into a coalition government proposed by the Communists to strengthen Marshal Badoglio's hand for a greater Italian war effort against the Germans.

The way was cleared in part last night by announcement King Victor Emmanuel was ready to retire—without abdicating—and designate his son, Crown Prince Umberto, as his deputy.

Umberto, Prince of Piedmont, confirmed the King's readiness to surrender his powers in an interview with the Associated Press.

"The King is old and ready to retire," Umberto said. "He has had a full life."

Whether the King would make the move before Allied occupation of Rome remained to be seen.

Outright abdication of Victor Emmanuel in favor of Umberto or the latter's son, the young Prince of Naples, long has been demanded by many Italian leaders on the ground the monarch collaborated with Mussolini's Fascist regime.

Vic Mature In C. G. Show

MIAMI, Fla., April 6 (AP)—Winning audiences with tuneful music and colorful dancing, the Coast Guard's all-service show, "Tars and Spars," is launching a tour of principal cities with a week's engagement here.

The show opened yesterday with a cast of 55 boys and girls in uniform and an orchestra of veterans of the North African and Sicilian campaigns. A feature was the song "How Much Coast Does the Coast Guard Guard," by Lieut. Vernon Duke.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Victor Mature, former screen actor, appears during the finals with an appeal for the Red Cross and an invitation to enlist in the Coast Guard.

Lay Plans to Finance Bonus

Although only an informal session of the Legislature was scheduled today, legislators faced a busy week-end of conferences in preparing a program to finance a Massachusetts' veterans' bonus bill now certain to be introduced in the House next Monday after an Easter recess.

Democratic leaders disclosed they will propose a tax on so-called intangibles—stocks and bonds—as a means of financing the $300 bonus for veterans. Proponents believe this tax would raise $100,000,000 annually.

If the bonus bill passes its first test in the lower branch next week, Democratic House Leader Michael J. Neville of Cambridge said the tax on intangibles would be one of several major proposals presented to the ways and means committee. He said a party caucus would be held Monday to consider other means of paying for the bonus.

Earlier, without a dissenting voice, both House and Senate enacted a new soldiers' vote bill which was signed by Gov. Saltonstall. The Governor also signed two other bills, one authorizing transfer of funds in the election budget to pay expenses of the advanced primary, set for July 11, and the second, extending until March 1, 1947, the deadline for inspection of places of public assembly under the new "Cocoanut Grove" state building laws.

Under the new vote bill servicemen or their relatives may apply for absentee ballots, to be used under the supervision of any superior officer. The state ballots contain names of electors for President, Vice-President, Senate and Congress.

Phones to Eire Shut by British

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Closing of public telephone service between Great Britain and all parts of Ireland to prevent leakage of military information to enemy agents was announced today by the postmaster general.

Public telegraph service will be maintained, subject to strict censorship.

The telephone ban follows the stoppage of travel between the two countries on the ground that neutral Eire might be used by Axis nations to maintain contacts for information on Allied military operations.

See MacArthur Holding Command

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 6 (AP)—Regardless of any future change in the status of the South Pacific area or alterations in its present command it is reliably believed Gen. MacArthur will continue in complete direction of Southwest Pacific offensives, both operational and strategically.

Some question of MacArthur's position developed with disclosures by correspondents at South Pacific headquarters that Adm. William F. Halsey, who has been in direct command there since August, 1942, may soon be relieved of his command and assigned an important new post.

There is every indication here that if such a change occurs it will not affect MacArthur's control of operations within the present sphere of activity or influence his long-range plans in any way.

Uninvited Guest Found Asleep in Living Room

It is difficult to entertain guests these days, what with rationing and the high prices of highballs—but what would you do if a stranger drops in at 2 a. m., neatly hangs up his clothes and goes to sleep on your living room divan?

C. H. Pepper of Griggs rd., Brookline, wealthy retired business man, called the police.

They took away a sleepy but well groomed and amiable young man who said he wasn't sure who he was but if it would help the police any there were papers in his pockets. One of the slips bore the name of John J. Carey, 24, of LaGrange st., Worcester.

The uninvited guest's presence was discovered by Miss Mary Gormley, nurse of the household, who was awakened in her third-floor room by noises downstairs. She aroused Mrs. Pepper, who awakened Pepper.

The women waited anxiously at the top of the stairs while Pepper put on his slippers and went down to the kitchen. Neatly arranged on a chair was a man's expensive coat. Carefully arranged on the coat was a pair of gloves, also expensive. Pepper proceeded to the living room.

On the divan, asleep with a blissful expression on his face, was a stranger.

"What are you doing here?" shouted Pepper. He repeated it as the visitor opened one eye.

"I don't know," the man answered simply.

"Who are you?"

"Can't remember," said the visitor. "Who are you?"

"I live here," Pepper told him. "Where are you from?"

"I think I'm from Worcester," said the visitor, stretching comfortably as he rose from the divan. "Nice city. Ever been there?"

"How did you get in?" demanded Pepper.

"Back door."

Pepper asked: "Don't you think we had better call the police?"

"Probably," said the other man.

The police came. The Peppers took an inventory of their effects. Nothing was missing except a pane of glass in the rear door.

Their visitor was booked for further investigation.

'Snow White' Thrills Schools

The personal appearances in the Boston schools this week of Miss Adriana Caselotti, the original voice of Snow White, and Dick Mitchell, one of Walt Disney's topnotch artists, was hailed as a great success today by Michael J. Ward, member of the Boston School Committee.

"It was a most educational experience to the school children," he said.

Miss Caselotti and Mr. Mitchell, here in Boston for the 1944 50-city premiere of Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which opens at the Normandie and Majestic Theaters on April 14th, will leave today to make personal appearances in other New England cities.

But Miss Caselotti will return early next week to be present when the lucky winner of the $1000 prize for the "New England Snow White" contest is announced.

The contest, sponsored by RKO Radio Pictures, Walt Disney Productions, Inc., and the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, is open to any young girl or woman with an appealing singing voice.

All she has to do to enter the contest is to send her name and address to the Snow White Editor, Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, 6, Mass., no latter than midnight, April 8th. She will then receive a card designating the time and date for her audition.

Auditions will be held at the Yankee Network Studio, 21 Brookline ave., Boston, on April 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Miss Caselotti and Mr. Mitchell appeared in five schools yesterday, performing in the Dorchester High School for Girls, the Dorchester High-School for Boys, the Charles Sumner, the Henry Grew, and the Michelangelo Schools.

Oil Aide in Court In Wife's Death

Henry D. Vander Wyk, Winchester oil company executive, today faced superior court arraignment on four charges, one of them manslaughter, in connection with the death of his wife. Indictments returned by the Middlesex County grand jury charge that Mrs. Rena Vander Wyk, found crushed to death in the driveway of their home last March 18, was run over by him while he was driving the family car.

They also charge him with driving under the influence of liquor, operating an auto so as to endanger life and limb, and leaving the scene of an accident without making known his identity.

The action by the grand jury will result in his trial in Middlesex Superior court and supercede a similar trial in Woburn district court on a charge of manslaughter which had been postponed until April 12.

Vander Wyk is free on bail after having pleaded not guilty to the district court charge.

Bold Thief Takes $45 From Purse

It cost Effie Head, 24 Frost st., Cambridge, just $45 to look at some attractive Easter cards in a Central sq. store yesterday afternoon.

The woman told police she had just about decided to purchase some of the cards and had opened her handbag when her attention was attracted to other cards. While she was looking at them, some nimble-fingered thief reached into the open purse and grabbed the $45.

Mourn Flier Son of Capt. M'Murray

Messages of condolence by the score were today received by Police Capt. Thomas E. McMurray of the East Boston station, who received word his son, Lieut. Warren E. McMurray, 26, was killed in action.

A Fortress pilot, Lieut. McMurray was reported missing Feb. 25, following a raid over France, and the Red Cross learned from the German government he had been placed on the list of the dead as of Feb. 8. There were no details.

Two years prior to the entrance of the United States into World War II, McMurray enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He later transferred in England to the American Air Force. He had been in many air battles and received decorations and citations.

Unrationed Gas Racket Bared

LOS ANGELES, April 6 (AP)—Charged with installing equipment in automobiles to permit use of unrationed butane gas instead of gasoline as fuel, Lawrence W. Zonker was indicted by a federal grand jury today on 10 counts of violating War Production Board regulations.

James E. Harrington, chief of the War Frauds Unit of the Department of Justice here, said Zonker sold the equipment for as high as $1000 per automobile to more than 40 motion picture actors and other wealthy Los Angeles citizens.

These included, Harrington said, Gary Cooper, Bob Hope, Eddie Cantor, L. B. Mayer, Producer William Goetz, Barbara Hutton, Cary Grant and Director Henry Hathaway, and several studios and other business concerns.

Announce New Asthma Remedy

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, April 6—New medicines for asthma and African sleeping sickness were reported to the American Chemical Society today.

The ashtma remedy is one of 20 new chemicals synthesized in search of a compound to relieve the strangling sensation of asthma without at the same time raising blood pressure.

Two of the chief asthma remedies, ephedrine and epinephrine, cause rising blood pressure. The report was made by Nathan Levin, Boyd E. Graham and N. G. Kolloff of the Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo, Mich.

The new synthetic has not been tried on human beings, but on dogs it has no blood pressure raising effects and on rabbits it appears to be an efficient dilator for relief of strangling.

The sleeping sickness remedy is for the type to which American soldiers are likely to be exposed. It is a new arsenic compound, less poisonous than the arsenic usually employed to treat sleeping sickness and has been tried in East Africa with encouraging results.

Two Get Chair In Attack Case

BESSEMER, Ala., April 6 (AP)—A circuit court jury convicted Daniel Reedy, 19, and Joe Hockenberry, 21, both of Washington, of charges of attacking a Birmingham matron last Feb. 11 and fixed the penalty at death in the electric chair.

Attorneys pleaded the youths were "hopelessly insane," introducing depositions by Washington alienists who observed the two while they were patients in a mental hospital. Mrs. Grace Hockenberry of Washington, mother of one of the defendants, testified her son had been a "serious problem child."

The prosecution based its case on testimony of the prosecuting witness, Mrs. John L. Brasher, 37, and five confessions attributed to Hockenberry and Reedy.

U. S. Army Aids Britain in Strike

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Fuel Minister Gwilym Lloyd George told Commons today "strike action in time of war cannot be justified" and simultaneous government moves indicated Britain was fashioning "a big stick" to end widespread stoppage in the mining and shipbuilding industries.

As the U. S. Army lent a hand to speed mining operations in the Northumberland coal fields, Lloyd George declared the coal crisis was the worst since 1926. He said the "government cannot stand aside and allow collective bargaining or the machinery of conciliation and arbitration in this vital industry to be weakened or destroyed."

American Army authorities sent two huge mechanical excavators to one Northumberland pit and they were put to work at once strip-mining, with approval of the fuel ministry.

Lloyd George announced 60 per cent of the Yorkshire pits now were operating, but said the strike already has cost 1,000,000 tons of coal, has resulted in heavy inroads into dwindling reserves and has stopped coal export to neutral countries.

Eaker Explains How Bombs Hit Own Men

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 6 (AP)—Lieut.-Gen. Ira C. Eaker disclosed today that a number of Allied soldiers had been killed by bombs which accidentally fell far from the target during the great Allied air assault on Cassino March 15.

This disclosure by the commander of the Allied Mediterranean Air Forces came during a press conference in which we discussed many aspects of the bombing and declared that while the operation had failed to break German resistance it had "accomplished all expected of it by the air force commanders . . ."

Eaker indicated his belief the outcome should not be construed as reflecting on the potentialities of aerial bombardment, declaring frankly air power has its recognized limitations and it was not to be expected that such an attack could wipe out all resistance.

Some bombs which missed the target at Cassino fell wide of their mark because of a "mechanical failure," he said, investigation showing "the bombs had become dislodged from racks and when the bomb doors were opened they became free."

Others which dropped at Venafro, far behind the front, killing a number of Allied troops, were the result of a mistake in target identification, Eaker added.

In discussing aspects of the bombing he emphasized his remarks should not be considered as a criticism of the ground forces or their commanders.

"Air force commanders advised the ground force commanders of the destruction which could reasonably be expected from such a bombardment and that the obstruction would not be completely devastated nor could the air attack be expected to dislodge all enemy opposition," he said.

In his opinion, Eaker remarked, accuracy of the bombing had little effect on the general over-all result.

"Over a long and more sustained period a greater degree of devastation could have been caused in Cassino," he said, "but it probably would have had little bearing on the final result. The enemy forces in their cellars, deep dugouts and underground passages would not have been affected."

Battles Sea Lions To Save Salmon

ASTORIA, Ore., April 6 (AP)—A veteran deep sea fisherman docked here yesterday exhausted from a battle to defend his 500-pound salmon catch against 19 sea lions.

Henry Jorgensen said his ship was anchored 10 miles off Long Beach, Wash., when he was awakened by what seemed the first pitching of a storm.

He emerged from the wheelhouse to find two sea lions flapping at him from the gunwales. He knocked them off, went back to bed.

The vessel began rolling again. Jorgensen said 17 more sea lions were fighting to climb to the salmon on the deck.

For an hour and 15 minutes, Jorgensen said, he kept them at bay with a pike pole and was about to yield when a final thrust dislodged a 12-footer that had actually boarded the vessel.

The battered sea lion swam off. The other 18 followed.

Japs Take Over 18 Foe Hongkong Banks

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Japanese authorities have ordered the "liquidation" of 18 branches of Allied-controlled banks in Hong Kong by the middle of April and the appointment of the Fomosa and Yokahama specie banks as executors, according to a Japanese Domei agency wireless dispatch directed today to America.

The dispatch said that among the banks to be taken over include the National City Bank of New York, Chase National Bank and the American Express Co.

Hyland stated he is aware it would be impossible for the Edison Company to replace the shields within 24 hours allowed in the event another dimout should be ordered, but expressed confidence the possibility of another dimout is remote.

Coffee-Kellems Battle in High

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Demands for official action came from both principals today in the verbal duel between Rep. Coffee (D.) of Washington and Miss Vivien Kellems, Westport, Ct., war plant executive accused by Coffee of having corresponded with a "Nazi agent" in Argentina and making "seditious" speeches.

Miss Kellems declared in an interview here that her personal mail had been tampered with, that Coffee must know who was responsible, and implied that as a "woman of action" she would press for prosecution.

Commenting on her statement, during which she accused Coffee of uttering "lies" and called him a "sneaking coward" who "ought to be in prison," the Democratic legislator said:

"I reiterate there should be an inquiry by the appropriate authorities, on the basis of the statement I made to the House."

He referred to a speech in which he said Miss Kellems had publicly urged business men to refuse to pay income taxes, and had carried on a correspondence with Count Frederick Karl Von Zedlitz whom he described as a "Nazi fifth-column spy."

Calling on the Justice Department to "put an end to this incredible conspiracy," Coffee at that time said Miss Kellems had been in "close touch" with Von Zedlitz for over two years, "discussing with him her political thoughts and personal affairs."

Miss Kellems told reporters yesterday she met Count Von Zedlitz in this country in 1935 and had corresponded with him until recently but she declared he was "not a member of the Nazi party."

Bids for Nazi Labor Flood Devens Camp

FORT DEVENS, April 6—Scores of New England industries facing critical shortages of labor, have appealed to the War Manpower Commission for use of the German prisoners of war who are quartered here in barracks formerly occupied by U. S. soldiers, it was disclosed today.

Officials announced that all such applications must be filed with the WMC, not the Army. They emphasized that prisoner-of-war labor cannot be used if it interferes in any way with free labor. Several thousand prisoners of war eventually will be used to cut wood for Maine pulp operators and to help harvest the apple crop in nearby Nashoba Valley orchards, it was reported.

Although the number of prisoners now housed here cannot be made public, Army authorities said the majority of them have expressed a willingness to work.

MEN WELL TREATED

Col. Harold G. Storke of Hull, prison camp commander, said the prisoners were being well treated in conformity with terms of the Geneva convention of 1929. While conducting newsmen on a tour of the camp pointing out the military alertness and bearing of all prisoners, he said:

"Don't get the idea we are coddling these prisoners in any way. We are going to live up to terms of the Geneva convention and are giving them only what they are entitled to.

"Everyone connected with the POW camp," he stated, "is very just and very strict; first as a matter of honor and secondly because it is a proven fact, proven by reports of the Swiss government and by letters from our boys in German camps, that the way we treat POW in this country has a direct effect on the treatment of our prisoners in Germany."

SHORT OF MEN

He said: "We're short of manpower in this country and need every physically able man in the Army for combat service. We've got many jobs on the post here that prisoners can do just as well as our men."

One-third of them are Protestants, a little more than a third are Catholics, and one-sixth of them profess no religion.

They receive a basic wage of $3 a month—10 cents a day—whether they work or not and are paid for work outside the stockade at the rate of 80 cents a day. They get their pay in the form of canteen coupons or in credit in the U. S. Treasury, to be paid in cash at the end of the war.

Florida Drivers In OPA Jam Here

Owners of 26 Massachusetts autos, as well as owners of 26 other cars in New England, today are faced with a quiz by the OPA, following the disclosure that the registrations of the cars were checked in Florida this past winter.

According to the OPA the registrations, which included 13 from Connecticut, six from Rhode Island, five from Maine and three from New Hampshire, were sent here from Washington and more are expected.

In Massachusetts the OPA is asking all local boards for the papers of alleged violators, to determine if there are sufficient facts to justify hearings, pointing out some of the cars might be in Florida legitimately. As for example four of the 53 went to the southern state on the grounds they had moved there, giving up their local addresses, the OPA said.

Duty Call Cancels Wedding of Officer

Today's Army Day—It's a Far Cry From Force of Past

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Lest you forget while reading about seven and a half million soldiers at war, this is Army Day.

By resolution of Congress in the peaceful late '20's, the anniversary of America's entry into World War I was set aside as a day on which to remember the Army. It was just a little Army then.

Today the parades and the trek of visitors to army posts are being omitted. There is neither time nor necessity for the parades. The American public knows about the army. And so does the enemy—for today it is deployed around the world.

The army expects to have five million men overseas before this year is out. That is more than all the troops mustered at home and abroad during the other war; only 2,059,629 served overseas.

The Army is nearing its goal of 7,700,000 having reached the seven and one-half million figure at the beginning of the year. There is, however, something of a scramble to attain the last few thousands and to allot the inflow of manpower to hold that level once it is atained.

Essentially the problem now is one of replacement. The depletions in Army strength arise both from battle casualties and discharges for various reasons. The battle casualties now total about 130,000 men. Discharges since Pearl Harbor have been slightly in excess of 1,000,000.

Martha Lee, Anne Adams, Anne Brent and Carol Ames are regular features on the women's pages in the Daily Record.

Bing Crosby Goes in For Cattle Raising

ELKO, Nev., April 6 (AP)—Harry L. (Bing) Crosby has purchased a 10,000-acre stock farm near Tuscarora, 50 miles north of here, and will run 2100 head of cattle on the place. The announcement was made today by Howard Eacret, Nevada manager for the film and radio star.

Ely Opens War On Bureau Rule

Charging the New Deal is attempting to prolong the war for political purposes, former Gov. Joseph B. Ely went on record in his campaign for the Presidency today declaring himself for "the return of the American government to the people and its release from bureaucrats who couldn't get 10 votes."

At opening of his campaign headquarters here, Ely addressed an organization meeting of delegates pledged to his support at the Democratic National convention.

Ely supporters will hold a dinner and rally on Thomas Jefferson's birthday, April 13, at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Ely announced, choosing the day "because it is to Jefferson's principles we give our undying allegiance."

Clear Wife Of Browder

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A 1940 order for deportation of Mrs. Raissa Berkman Browder, Russian-born wife of the American Communist leader, Earl Browder, was withdrawn by the Board of Immigration Appeals.

Mrs. Browder was able at a recent hearing, her third, to "dissipate the doubts" the board had previously entertained concerning her testimony that she was not a Communist, it was explained.

She was granted permission to leave the country within six months, but under a procedure making it possible for her to return merely by crossing into Canada or Mexico and having her visa stamped by an American consul.

Rob Mexicans Of U. S. Savings

ONTARIO, Cal., April 6 (AP)—Bandits in Mexico, says Kelly Moya, 45, aren't helping the "good neighbor" policy very much.

During a recent visit to Mexico City, Moya said, 600 Mexican nationals aboard his train were robbed of more than $100,000, their savings from six months of agricultural labor in the United States.

Moya, who returned to his home here yesterday, said 60 men with machine guns and pistols held up the train near Culiacan, Sinaloa, Mexico. Moya escaped by diving from a train window, but lost $25 in cash and luggage worth $200 he stated.

Nine Fishermen Saved, Boat Lost

Nine men of the Gloucester fishing trawler Spring Chicken were thankful today to be alive, but sorrowful over the loss of their boat and 80,000 pounds of fish, valued at $12,000.

The crew was rescued 35 miles off Cape Henry, Va., by the Coast Guard when heavy seas opened the forward seams of the Spring Chicken. The trawler sank a few hours later.

JVA 'Fund Band' Aids Red Cross

Providing entertainment is still the chief activity of the "Fun Band" Corps of the Junior Victory Army in East Boston, according to the report of the secretary, Grace Cipoletta.

The sponsor of the corps is Albert F. Varner and he has shepherded the group to motion picture theaters, camps, hospitals, Y. M. C. A.'s and other institutions where the musicians, dancers and singers of the band have given their program.

Their most recent appearances were in behalf of the Red Cross, where adults in the audiences were urged to donate blood.

The corps has also been busy in salvage work, collecting paper, magazines and other materials, the secretary says.

Suzanne Patrin, Lafayette st., Biddeford, Me., is the newest organizer of a JVA Defense Corps. There are seven recruits in her unit ranging rom 13 to 16 years old. They are expected to elect officers soon and begin reporting regularly on their home front activities.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 225, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be bad kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The PRIME of LIFE Can Be Prolonged

DR. HENRY C. SHERMAN SAYS:

"A generous supply of Calcium results in better development of the young, a higher norm of adult health, and a longer lease of what we may call the prime of life, the period between maturity and old age

AM I OLD AT 40?

We are at 40, 50, 60 or over or when the body no longer builds new cells to replace old cells as fast as they wear out. Plenty of Calcium, an important element in cell building, helps fight the onset of OLD AGE and PROLONGS THE PRIME OF LIFE as it helps build new body cells.

ARE MY NAILS BRITTLE?

Calcium is an essential mineral in the nails, bones and teeth. Silty as essential as it is for the soft tissues. A Calcium deficiency does not always react in the same manner in different people—in some it may cause weak, soft, brittle nails that break and split easily.

Food rationing may not supply sufficient calcium says Claude Wickard, U. S. Sec. of Agriculture

Calcium is more often deficient in the diet than any other mineral. Calcium deficiency, a form of malnutrition, may be a cause of acidity, nervousness, fatigue, weak heart muscles and other effects that hasten the onset of "OLD AGE" and shorten the "PRIME OF LIFE."

A generous supply of Calcium with Phosphorus and Vitamin D is required for the normal Calcium-Phosphorus balance that is essential to health. Calcium, extracted and reconstructed, is needed in the growth and repair of organs, glands, cells and tissues.

DO I TIRE EASILY?

A mineral starved body tires easily. Minerals are necessary for normal strength, energy and vitality. Calcium is one of the most important of these constructive forces. A Calcium starved body cannot retain normal strength, energy and vitality, therefore tires easily.

AM I NERVOUS?

High tension and sleepless nerves or ragged, jagged, jumpy nerves may be due to a Calcium deficiency which disturbs the parathyroid glands causing intense sensitivity of the nervous system. KAL is rich in Calcium-Phosphorus and Vitamin D and B1, all in splendid proportions.

CALCIUM — PHOSPHORUS VITAMIN D — VITAMIN B1

Calcium Phosphorus and Vitamin D—all three are required together in good proportion for the body to properly absorb Calcium for retention and use. Vitamin B1, an important factor in metabolism. Is valuable in association with Calcium, Phosphorus and Vitamin D. KAL is dependably rich in these elements and furnishes them in fine proportion. Add KAL to your daily diet, see how much better you feel after KAL helps you overcome a deficiency of these essentials and helps you maintain a normal Calcium Phosphorus balance.

The Swiss Challenge To Boston

SWITZERLAND has unofficially announced its intention of establishing a direct, non-stop airline to the United States as soon as the war ends and economic conditions permit.

When the transatlantic project becomes a reality, a person can leave America at 7 o'clock in the evening and be in the heart of the Alps at 4:45 the next afternoon.

From Switzerland he will be able to continue his journey to any part of Europe or Asia.

Our own City of Boston should be the United States terminal for such an airline.

We are 300 miles nearer Switzerland than any other American city and, because of this fortunate geographic location can save an international flying company thousands of dollars in the course of a year.

But we shall never achieve this desirable and exceedingly profitable position so long as we are satisfied with ox-cart facilities.

The Swiss announcement should be a challenge to the city and State to wake up and modernize the Boston Airport.

A Good Public Servant

THE RESIGNATION of Frank A. Goodwin means the departure of a provenly good official from a vitally important position.

Without doubt, Mr. Goodwin as registrar of motor vehicles had the Commonwealth's hardest job.

Every time he suspended a driving license or revoked an automobile registration he took the risk of being branded a tyrant or an autocrat by the affected person.

But Mr. Goodwin was never deterred by black looks and harsh words.

He valued public safety more than his personal popularity.

Wherefore he put thousands of motorists off the highways and warned unceasingly against drunken and irresponsible driving.

On the eve of his retirement he has the consoling reward of knowing that there are hundreds of persons enjoying normal lives today who would be in hospitals or cemeteries if he had been less conscientious.

Governor Saltonstall will not find it easy to replace Mr. Goodwin.

Cheerful News for Women

SCIENCE is not forgetting women and their needs when it plans the happier, easier and healthier post-war era.

According to Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of the Westinghouse Home Economic Institute, a wondrously ingenious machine will soon wash, dry and iron all the family's clothes with little or no supervision.

Recenty Mrs. Kiene told a Chicago convention:

"It's just as well that the home-maker using a wringer-type washer today doesn't realize that when she does an average washing she lifts between 400 and 900 pounds of clothes and water, depending upon whether she uses a hose of buckets to fill the machine and tubs.

"The energy required is equivalent to shoveling eight tons of coal into a furnace.

"Automatic washing will eliminate all that, and the family washing, instead of being done on a certain day of the week, can be done without effort at any hour of any day."

The new washing machine cannot come too quickly.

It's the least science can give a woman who expends more energy over her tubs in an hour than her husband expends over his coal pile in an entire winter.

Boston's Good Example

BOSTON CITY HALL has increased its own efficiency and made a substantial contribution to the nationwide waste paper drive by cleaning its storerooms and sending tons of obsolete records, old letters, filing cards, blueprints and books to salvage mills.

Professional and business men should follow the city's good example and give their own offices a similar cleaning.

There are thousands of tons of paper serving no useful purpose in Boston law offices, banks, hospitals and industrial establishments.

Every ounce of this paper belongs in the war effort.

It is needed in the production of ammunition.

It is needed in the packaging of food and supplies.

It is needed to replace wood and metal in innumerable essential commodities.

The Governor and all mayors and selectmen should proclaim a Clean-Your-Office Day for observance throughout Massachusetts.

The waste paper thus collected would keep defense industries in operation for weeks.

They who go
Feel not the pain of parting;
It is they who stay behind
That suffer.
—LONGFELLOW.

THIS is the first column I have ever written in Lamy, N. M. Of course, I have written columns in stranger places. I once wrote one in Patras, Greece. I recorded at that time that while I was walking about Patras I said to a resident: "Do you speak English?" He said: "If I can't I should be ashamed of myself. I spent 30 years in Brooklyn." He said he saved the money he made in Brooklyn so he could retire and live in peace and quiet in Greece. That was in 1939. I suppose the Nazis have his bankroll now. I haven't started to walk around Lamy yet, but no doubt will find somebody from Brooklyn here, too. What am I doing in Lamy? Well, that seems a fair question. I am on my way West and there is a slight delay in the progress of the train at this point. Lamy is the station where you change if you want to go to Santa Fe. It was at Santa Fe that Billy the Kid was brought up. As you no doubt know, Billy was born in Brooklyn.

LOST: Yesterday I was in Kansas City, Mo. It was snowing. Maybe you don't care whether or not it was snowing in Kansas City. I wouldn't be surprised if you didn't care either that I left my light overcoat there. However, that is important to me, as now I can never say anything when my girl friend leaves her handbag somewhere or she will say: "How about the time you forget your overcoat in Kansas City?"

FOOD, ETC.: Just heard one of the trainmen say to a passenger: "See that little restaurant over there? That is one of the finest places I have ever eaten in. All you can eat for half a dollar." I'm not hungry or I would try it. A dog just came up and made his way to the dining car. Understand this dog meets all the dining cars that stop at Lamy. A couple years ago he turned up his nose at anything but a steak or roast beef bone. Now he will even take fish. I read one time there was a dining car that stopped at Cairo, Egypt, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. On those days about 30 dogs would be on hand to meet the train, but on the other days of the week not a dog showed up. I always thought dogs were smart, but didn't think they could tell the difference between Monday and Tuesday.

BRIEFLY: In 1942, the Palmer House of Chicago cashed $12,000,000 in checks and lost only $5.41 by reason of worthless checks. This proves either that most people are honest or that the Palmer House has a smart credit manager . . . Women in general undoubtedly do more talking than men . . . However, most of the real long winded, nonstoppable conversationalists are men. In the lounge car of a train recently, my attention was attracted to a man who was monopolizing the conversation of a group of four men. This fellow talked without stopping for 45 minutes.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What chance, if any, has a widow with three children of getting a husband? A—No doubt this subscriber thinks having three children is a handicap for a widow competing for a husband. It is in a way, but should not discourage a clever woman. I know of a widow with seven children who recently acquired a husband . . . Q—The sergeant says the claim of the Japs that they never lost a war is strictly the bunk. He says the Koreans once defeated them. How about it? A—The sergeant is right. The Koreans defeated the Japs in 1598.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: As to the so-called "soldier vote," there will be by November 9,000,000 men in the armed forces who are eligible to vote . . . During the past year those buying gasoline in the black market paid an average of 50 cents a gallon . . . The new basketball rules seek to diminish the advantage of height to players. In the last Olympic Games, in which the Japs competed, they asked that the basketball rules be changed so tall players would not have such an advantage. The players on the Jap team averaged five feet two inches in height.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY — I look back on my visit to the Canal Zone as the time when Miss Thompson and I were most steadily on the go. We had our headquarters at the home of Governor and Mrs. Glen Edgerton, but I think we must have been most unsatisfactory guests. We left the house so early each morning that our hosts did not say "Good Morning to us until the afternoon, and when we came in at night, we were so weary that we would say "Good Night" and go to bed at once.

Our first morning we went by plane to the Atlantic side of the Isthmus, where we visited Army and Navy hospitals, and lunched with some enlisted men who were going through a course in jungle warfare. Then we flew back to the Pacific side and went to the Gorgas Hospital. This is for Canal Zone civilian workers and their families, but it also has quite a large number of military patients.

IN THE EVENING we drove out to a jungle base for a USO dance. Chaperones escort groups of girls out to the dances. That evening, the room was decorated with palms and a good military orchestra was playing.

Quite a number of the soldiers are from Puerto Rico, and so, when I drew the numbers for the door prizes out of a helmet, I had to announce the numbers in Spanish as well as in English.

★ ★ ★

WHILE IN THE CANAL ZONE, I saw a pamphlet describing the program of orientation classes for the Panama mobile force, and was impressed by it. Officially, the object is to give the soldiers an insight into the causes of war, the problems of peace, and so on. Unofficially, the classes are free-for-all discussions of all kinds of topics.

Hollywood . . . . By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 6—Susan Peters has been a far sicker girl than anyone in Hollywood realized. She has been ailing for over a month and last Saturday she underwent a serious major operation at the Santa Monica Hospital.

She was right in the midst of production on "Secrets in the Dark" and shooting will necessarily be held up for over a month.

Elena Verdugo

I couldn't help but wonder when I heard that the shooting schedule on "Secrets" had changed if Mrs. Pauline Leader Brand's threatened law suit might be instrumental in calling off the picture. But at M-G-M it was stated that they are not worried about Mrs. Brand's suit because there is no illicit romance nor illegitimate child in the picture.

Mrs. Brand claimed her former husband, Millen Brand, author of "Outward Room," from which "Secrets in the Dark" was taken, had defamed her character.

★ ★ ★

JOEL McCREA, who has been off the screen for six months or longer doing official work for the government, stars in "Fear" at Paramount. Joel has been rumored for a dozen different movies, but this one, he says, is official. It's a great break for Gail Russell, the girl in this thriller-diller. When I tell you that "Fear" is the new title on an adaptation of "Her Heart in Her Throat," the Ethel Lina White murder mystery, you may remember the story. Miss White, a British writer, authored many of these who-dun-its that have been filmed by Alfred Hitchcock. The locale is being switched from London to New England and Lewis Allen, who directed "The Uninvited," will do the megaphoning.

★ ★ ★

SEEMS LIKE a long time between flashes on Elena Verdugo, the beautiful Spanish blonde who played the native girl with George Sanders in "The Moon and Sixpence." But this morning Elena pops up with her best break since that picture, the femme lead with Boris Karloff in "The Devil's Brood" at Universal. This is the super-horror opus with a whole cast of boogey men, including Karloff, Lon Chaney, Jr., John Carradine and J. Carroll Naish. Xavier Cugat is also paging Elena to sing and dance with his orchestra.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Mrs. Richard Smart, the former Patricia Monteagle, socialite, has decided to fight her husband's divorce suit, filed a few months ago in Honolulu.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Joan Blondell is due home to battle for her children when her divorce case against Dick Powell reaches the courts. Joy Hodges replaces her in "Something for the Boys"; Alice Faye's baby may arrive for an Easter present; Bob Hope will soon have another book on the market. This one deals with his experiences at Army camps; Roscoe Karns will be a grandfather any day; now I've heard everything: Albert Dekker is going to run for State Assemblyman; Deanna Durbin, much blonder than I have ever seen her, at the Biltmore with her producer, Felix Jackson; the Walter Langs will give a supper party Saturday in honor of Clark Gable, who leaves soon.

NEW YORK, April 6—Singing is nice work if you can get it—and put it across. Girls in all walks of life find dazzling daydream fodder in the verse-and-choruses kind of career. Reading of the Hildegardes, the Mermans and the Martins—young, glamorous, famous—it's only natural that they envy them and yearn to emulate them.

You see these energetic dreamers all around the town in every type of nitery from the swank to the shoddy. Where do they come from? What are they like? Let's meet two of them.

★ ★ ★

AT LEON & EDDIE'S the songstress is chestnut-haired, green-eyed Evelyn Brooks. She is an Al Siegel product, his newest, and when she sings a sentimental ballad you'd never guess that she broke into show business by getting tossed around five times daily in vaudeville as a member of an Arabian tumbling troupe known as the Abdulahs.

She was born in the stronghold of Dem Bums, lives there still, and is a member in good standing of the Society for the Prevention of Disparaging Remarks About Brooklyn.

Her greatest disappointment followed the fulfillment of her greatest ambition, which was to be in a Broadway show. The show was "Beat the Band," and it flopped with a dull thud. Now her revised ambition is to be in a Broadway hit show. Evelyn says she and her best beau get along dreamily because she is interested in his hobby—the care and breeding of pigeons—and he is enthused about her career.

★ ★ ★

GERRY LARSON, who vocalizes with Vincent Lopez's band, is one of the town's most photogenic thrushes. Her dark blue eyes and pale blonde tresses attracted the interest of one of the big model agencies, and now her lovely features decorate the beauty ads and fashion shots in the slick magazines. The head of the model agency wanted to give Gerry a new, trick name, but she demurred because Lopez had already revised her own name (Geraldine Larison) to make it numerologically lucky.

Gerry hails from Stroudsburg, Pa., where she attended State Teachers' College for four years and taught French and English at the East Stroudsburg High School. During a summer vacation she happened to meet Lopez in New York, and she never returned to the classroom.

She has more than singing in common with Bruce Hayes, the male vocalist in the band.

HOLLYWOOD, April 6—Greer Garson's underwear scene in "Mrs. Parkington" is giving the Hays' office a problem . . . Lillian Hellman, after the opening of her play, "The Searching Wind," will go to London to write the scenario of "War and Peace" for Alexander Korda . . . Ray Milland will be the leading man in "Olympia" . . . Lieut. Bill Erwin and Dolores Moran are a thing . . . Charles Boyer is on his way to Canada to make some broadcasts for the Canadian government . . . The Army Air Force Motion Picture Unit at Ft. Roach has been cited by Gen. Arnold for the job they did on "Memphis Belle" . . . Joe Sistrom is on his way to London for the OWI to make a feature length film on France . . . Dan Dailey is now at Ft. Riley teaching WACs how to ride . . . Patricia Morison and Wynn Rocamora are friends . . . Anne Baxter and Whitfield Cook together at the Savoy.

MICHAEL O'SHEA will probably get the lead in "Something for the Boys" . . . The wise money says that Hal Wallis will join David Selznick with his own producing unit to make pictures with the many players that Selznick has under contract . . . R. C. Sherrif will shortly go to London to write a picture for Metro . . . John Carradine is going to take his Shakespearean players on another tour . . . "The Adventures of Mark Twain" relates how Samuel Clemens decided on his writing name Mark Twain. "Mark Twain" is the call of the Mississippi boatmen, which signals the boat captain that all is well and that the boat is out of shallow water . . . Sheila Ryan and Charles Russell out together with K. T. Stevens and Alan Curtis . . . Melvin Wald and Walter Doniger have sold their play, "Father Was the President," which concerns Theodore Roosevelt, for a Broadway production . . . Ely Cuibertson and Sonja Yarr of "The Conspirators" are something . . . Lois Andrews and Al Herd are friends . . . Miliza Korjus, who made "The Great Waltz," is in Mexico City making pictures for Azteca Films.

One can pick up a few lines—"on the record" items—at such a session . . . School committeeman Ward, for instance, makes known that he has opened headquarters for his campaign for sheriff at 11 Beacon st.

★ ★ ★

AND IF HE HASN'T read Charles Devander's book, "Big Bosses," Committeeman Ward will find some material there for campaign "literature" . . . According to Author Devander, who devotes a page and a half of type to Michael "A." Ward, ("J" being the correct middle initial), credits the Brighton politico with being the most able Democratic organizer since Martin J. Lomasney . . . "Big Bosses" has an accurate once-over-lightly of the "Boston situation" . . . It reveals that Dist.-Atty. Foley and Congressman McCormack haven't spoken to each other for 10 years, for instance, which was news to this corner.

★

A STORY IS CONTRIBUTED by "Mitch" Kelleher, which concerned Tom Ray, who used to be the outside secretary for Governor Ely . . . (former Governor Ely and former Governor Brann of Maine were the two governors in the lobby while we sat it out.) . . . Tom Ray was invaluable to Ely because he knew every politician in Massachusetts, and could rate them according to standing when it came to appointments . . . But Tom was not so familiar with Europe's big-shots . . . Winston Churchill, therefore, was just a visitor when he called at the State House during the Ely administration . . . The British chieftain waited an hour and half, as a result.

★ ★ ★

WHEN HIS NAME was presented finally to the governor, as one of a half dozen appointment seekers who insisted on lingering in the outer office, Governor Ely ordered Tom to usher him—at once . . . So Tom sauntered out to the ante-room, crocked a finger at Churchill and said: "Okay, Big Boy!"

★ ★ ★

GOVERNOR ELY had this comment to make on Willkie's calamitous defeat in Wisconsin . . . He pointed to the front page of a Boston eight-column newspaper . . . "I never saw a man who ran fourth (and last) get the whole top spread of a newspaper." But Charles H. McGlue, former chairman of the Democratic State Committee, saw the Wisconsin vote as a protest against the same kind of "internationalism" for which the 16-years-in-the-White House-movement stands for in the Democratic Party.

Solon Sees Russia-Japan Link

By RAY RICHARDS

WASHINGTON, April 6—Accusing Russia of waging psychological warfare on the United States and Great Britain in the Asiatic conflict, Rep. Warren G. Magnuson, Washington Democrat, today suggested the State Department determine whether unannounced agreements have been reached between the Soviets and Japan.

The apparent extraordinary degree of collaboration between Moscow and Tokyo justifies the suspicion that such agreements exist, Magnuson said.

As a Congressman, a member of the House Naval Affairs Committee and a Naval Reserve lieutenant commander with a service record in this war, Magnuson declared Russia's enigmatic but suggestive attitude in Asia undoubtedly is disturbing American plans in the Pacific theater of action.

Russia's unexpected extension of the Maritime Provinces fisheries treaty for a five-year period is a signal that Russia expects to remain on friendly terms with Japan after Germany falls, he claimed.

He joined the current Congressional clamor for a full explanation from top authority of the success of the Japanese drive into India, China's new and virtually complete news censorship, Russia's anti-China gestures in interior Asia, and the degree of Russian collaboration with Japan that permits the transfer southward of Japanese troops from the Siberia-Manchuria border.

He declared American strategic plans have been prepared on the assumption that Russia would at last give no actual assistance to Japan.

He said the turn of events must be a bitter disappointment to the American people, who had counted on eventual Russian aid against Japan, and even had felt confidence the Soviets would lend Siberian bases to the United States.

"There is clear and documentary evidence that Russia does not intend to go to war with Japan while we are engaged in the Orient," he said.

"Moscow's announcement of a 'diplomatic victory' in the termination of the Japanese long-term lease on Sakhalin oil and coal was deceptive. The fuel supply to our enemy is not to be terminated during the probable period of the present war.

"There is a positive press report that two divisions of the Kwantung army, at the very least, have been dispatched from Manchuria to make war on the Chinese in the south and to augment the reserves of the Japanese attack on Indian territory.

"This is the first time Japan has dared withdraw any of the forces disposed to oppose the Red Army of Siberia.

Willkie

the party, or to have any other strings attached.

While Dewey was on all counts top man in the party as of today, the question of what Willkie might do held the intense interest of Republican politicians, who speculated on these possible developments:

1—Willkie might plump for a Republican with liberal international views such as Stassen, thus giving that candidate's chances a boost.

2—He might return to the Democratic party, which he quit before 1940—might even support a fourth term for President Roosevelt in preference to aiding a Republican who did not see eye to eye with him on foreign affairs. There was some conjecture that Willkie might be invited to share the ticket with the President.

3—He might head a new "Bull Moose" liberal movement away from the old line Republican party.

4—Or he might go along with the GOP nominee, whoever that may be, continuing his appeals for a "one world" program to preserve future peace, a peace he thus could hope to have some hand in formulating.

ANNOUNCES EXIT

Willkie announced his exit from the race in the course of what had been billed as a presidential campaign speech in Omaha last night. He added to his prepared speech a statement which said, in part:

"It has been my conviction that no Republican could be nominated for President unless he received at the convention the votes of some of the major midwestern states, for it is in this section of the country that the Republican party has had its greatest resurgence.

"Therefore, I quite deliberately entered the Wisconsin primary to test whether the Republican voters of the state would support me and in the advocacy of every sacrifice and cost necessary to winning and shortening the war and in the advocacy of tangible, effective economic and political co-operation among the nations of the world for the preservation of the peace and the rebuilding of humanity."

Willkie thus gave the first public explanation of the basic reasons why he entered a state often considered opposed to his views on international affairs, a state that Dewey carried handily in the 1940 pre-convention campaign.

FEW REGRETS

While some of his Republican colleagues had kind words for Willkie's stimulation of interest in the 1944 campaign, few of them expressed public regret that he had quit.

Governor Bricker, surprised at the announcement, said Willkie had created interest "by freely and courageously discussing his conception of the issues that are facing us in this very serious situation." The Ohioan added that he intended to "continue my best efforts to let the public know my position in all respects."

There was no word from Stassen or MacArthur.

Willkie Defeat Seen Global Policy Blow

WASHINGTON, April 6—As Wendell Willkie pulled his hat out of the presidential ring following the shellacking he received in the Wisconsin primary elections, the outcome was interpreted today in high Republican circles as follows:

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, is virtually assured of the Republican nomination.

The Wisconsin vote recorded midwest antagonism against the post-war internationalism with a global police force sponsored by both Willkie and the Roosevelt Administration.

REBUKE TO NEW DEAL

It also was a rebuke administered to the New Deal, to which Willkie was considered blood-kin.

That Willkie is finished politically and may prove more of a liability than an asset to the Republican Party.

That the Wisconsin debacle reflected the rising tide of nationalism and that Willkie admitted as much in his reference to the leading Dewey delegate being a supporter of the America First movement.

Dewey's smothering of the Willkie opposition caused his supporters here to predict he would be nominated in the June Chicago convention on the first ballot.

While Willkie, in his withdrawal statement, did not reveal whether he would stay within the Republican ranks, his friends here predicted he would continue to fight against "isolationist forces" within the party.

DEMOCRATIC GLOOM

The Willkie defeat and subsequent withdrawal from the presidential arena cast a gloom over Democratic headquarters here, which had favored the nomination of Willkie in the belief he would be the easiest candidate to beat. Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D.) of Montana said:

"The Wisconsin primary results ought to convince the internationalists that the people are opposed to their visionary schemes for making the world over at one fell swoop and destroying America in the process.

"The outcome is no surprise to anyone familiar with the temper of the American people. Nationalism is as strong today as it ever was and is getting stronger. Just wait until the troops get home."

Crushed by Defeat, Willkie Off for N. Y.

OMAHA, Neb., April 6 (INS)—Crushed by his overwhelming defeat in the Wisconsin primary election in which he failed to capture a single delegate, Wendell Willkie headed for New York today after abandoning his battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

He even cancelled an address he was to have delivered tonight at Sioux City, Ia., as well as all plans for addresses in Michigan and other states.

All day yesterday, although he knew he had been badly whipped in the Wisconsin primary, he refused to make any statement until his speech at night.

POLLY WHEATLAND PEABODY, who was married in London this week to Lieut. Count Albert de Munn of Paris, is well known in Boston social circles. She spent much of her girlhood at the Hamilton home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. R. Peabody, who was Florence Wheatland, a celebrated Boston beauty.

Polly's Dad was the late Dr. Richard Peabody of Boston and her mother is Mrs. Henry Grew Crosby, now of Washington. Since the war she has done hospital work in Finland and Russia, described it in her book, "Occupied Territory," and is now with the French Red Cross. Her bridegroom is with the deGaulle military mission in London and was formerly in the champagne business in which the de Munns had large interests.

RUSSIAN FILM FOR LOEW'S

"Song of Russia," with music by Tschaikowsky and romancing by Robert Taylor and Susan Peters, opens today on Loew's State and Orpheum screens.

Gregory Ratoff directed this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which numbers among its supporting cast John Hodiak, Robert Benchley and Felix Bressart. Five writers . . . count 'em . . . did the script and we list them as follows: Paul Jarrico, Leo Mittler, Richard Collins, Victor Trivas and Guy Endore.

SUSAN PETERS

There is considerable interest in the theaters' added attraction, "The Memphis Belle," a film entirely in Technicolor and produced by the U. S. Eighth Air Force photographic section in co-operation with Army Air Forces of the First Motion Picture Unit. Lieut.-Col. William Wyler, one of Hollywood's first directors, megaphoned this picture which is dedicated to the Eighth Air Force men who are now flying deep into Germany and who have never been turned back by the enemy

'Memphis Belle'

New second attraction at Keith Memorial screen is "The Memphis Belle," first actual, authentic record of a bombing mission over Germany. Photographed in Technicolor by the U. S. Eighth Air Force photographers and combat crew members, "The Memphis Belle" is dedicated to the Eighth Air Force. "Jane Eyre" is holding over a third week on this screen.

FINE ACTING AT TRANS-LUX

Jean Parker, taking that last mile in graceful stride and modish black on Trans-Lux screen currently, may startle you who are accustomed to seeing her sashaying around in the great, open spaces but hold your horses.

The exoneration does not come too late, for which Lionel Atwill, never a bad actor on stage or screen, is to be thanked. Atwill, impersonating a famous criminologist, persists in his thwarted investigation, uncovers evidence that John Maxwell, a friend of Jean's sister, Marcie Mae Jones, is the real murderer.

Jean, who deserves a brighter screen fate than being cast as a condemned murderer, happily escapes the hot-seat. She and her associates in "Lady in the Death House" perform their acting chores skilfully under Steve Sekely's competent direction. Besides Atwill, these include Miss Jones, Douglas Fowley, Maxwell, Cy Kendall, George Irving, Forrest Taylor and Robert Middlemass.

Jack Schwarz produced this modestly-budgeted offering. The companion attraction is "Hot Rhythm," which stars the delectable Dona Drake. P. D.

Quake Rocks Istanbul

LONDON, April 6 (INS)—Violent earthquake shocks rocked the Istanbul area of Turkey at 7:45 a. m. today, Reuter's News Agency reported in a dispatch which placed the epicenter in the Balikisra region in the northwestern portion of the country.

"SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS" returns as a post-Easter present Friday, April 14, at Normandie and Majestic.

American Stars Highlight Opera's Visit

In American is the way opera talent is arriving in increasing numbers. Time was when contrary Mary Garden's name was a novelty on the Chicago Opera Company's roster which was predominently Continental in flavor.

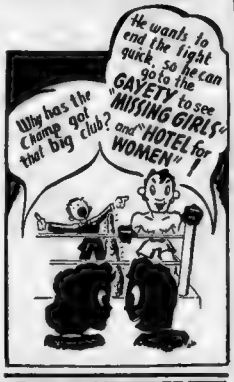
That was all so long ago. Today's star-spangled opera casts are notably American. In instance, look over the names of singers appearing with the Metropolitan Opera during the forthcoming engagement at the Opera House, opening Monday through Friday. Included are:

Leonard Warren, who will sing the role of Renato in Verdi's "The Masked Ball," the opening night opera. Indeed, the cast of "The Masked Ball" is largely American including as it does Frances Greer, John Baker and Jan Peerce.

In "The Magic Flute," to be presented on Tuesday evening, are such well-known Americans as Eleanor Steber, Audrey Bowman, John Gurney and Charles Kullman. Friday evening's opera, "Aida," similerly number in its cast the native-born Maxine Stellman, and at Saturday's matinee performance of "Faust," you will hear North Carolina's favorite contralto, Lucille Browning.

'Lady in the Dark' At Scollay, Olympia

"Lady in the Dark," Paramount's sooper-dooper Technicolor job starring Ginger Rogers in the Gertrude Lawrence role, is now unreeling on the Washington St. Olympia and Scollay screens. On the same bill is the Joe E. Brown-June Havoc starring "Casanova In Burlesque."



He wants to end the fight quick, so he can go to the GAYETY to see "MISSING GIRLS" and "HOTEL for WOMEN"!

Thousands Fill Churches For Holy Thursday Rites

Thousands of devoted worshippers thronged Greater Boston Catholic and Protestant churches today for Holy Thursday services to commemorate the institution Eucharist by Jesus at the Last Supper.

Holy Communion was distributed to the faithful this morning in Catholic churches, and noonday Communion services were scheduled at many Protestant churches.

In each Catholic church, where only one mass is permitted on Holy Thursday, two Hosts were consecrated. The second Host, after a procession, was taken to a side, flower-decked altar of repose, to remain exposed for adoration throughout the day and night until its use tomorrow in the Good Friday mass of the pre-Sanctified.

Tonight, Holy Hour services will be held in many churches. Others will remain open all night with guards of honor on duty before the Sacred Host.

At the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, the solemn chanting of Tenebrae will be repeated today at 8 by the choir from St. John's Seminary, Brighton. Evening services also will be held in a number of Protestant churches.

Carrying out a tradition of many centuries, thousands of Catholics will make visits to seven different churches throughout the day and evening to obtain special indulgences.

The Rev. John P. Flanagan, S. J., will give the discourse on "The Seven Last Words," at St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, during the three-hour Good Friday service from noon to 3 p. m. The Weston College Seminary Choir, will sing traditional passiontide music during the service. At 8 p. m., the Rev. James J. Kelley, S. J., dean of the Boston College school of business administration, will give the sermon on the Passion.

'Clean Up' Violator Gets Stiff Fine

Boston property owners were today furnished ample evidence the courts will back up the drive of the health department to clean up the city when Judge James Welch fined Harry Small of Dorchester $85 for failure to clean up a backyard rated as a health menace.

High Nazi Executed On Defeatism Charge

STOCKHOLM, April 6 (INS)—Reports from Germany said that Wilhelm Zwilling, described as a holder of a "high office" in Berlin, had been executed following his conviction of charges of defeatism.

A dispatch by the Nazi agency DNB described Zwilling as a "director who occupied an authoritative position in the Reich."

Norman Quits Bank of England

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Montagu C. Norman resigned as governor of the Bank of England on advice of physicians, Lord Catto, financial adviser to the treasury, has been chosen successor, the bank announced today.

Norman, one of the world's foremost figures in finance, had been governor of the bank for 24 years. He will surrender his office at the end of his present term this month. The selection of Lord Catto will be confirmed at an election April 18.

"Sure—he's learning the business from the ground up. But what makes you think he's the boss's son?"

"He demanded a Guinness with his lunch!"

A TASTE for Guinness is a taste that does any man credit! This famous brew has been praised by men of distinction since the days of wigs and knee breeches.

Join the good company of those who have "a Guinness palate." Try Guinness today—either straight or added to your favourite beer ("Half-and-Half"). Life is brighter after Guinness. Nothing else like it! Guinness is unique because it retains active yeasts—its natural goodness.

Brewed in Dublin since 1759 (now Blackrose in London), Guinness is still available there, though subject to export quotas. Enjoy Guinness before or with meals, at bedtime, or whenever tired. Sole U. S. Distributor, G. F. Heublein & Bro., Inc., Hartford, Conn.

Let Face Wake Up--Live Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

THE IMMORTAL LINES . . , penned by Robert Burns in the 18th century . . . "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us, To see oursel's as others see us!" . . . should ever be the beauty guide of every woman.

For if we gals could see ourselves as others see us . . . if we only could . . . we would wake up our complexion and let it live. The average girl looks into her mirror so casually . . . that weeks and months may elapse before she really "sees" herself. Her days are busied . . . her toilette hurried . . . her beauty care a matter of indifferent routine.

And, then one fine day comes and she realizes . . . in one illuminating flash . . . that something is seriously wrong with her skin. But others may have seen it all along . . . they may have seen a complexion that is dull, sallow and lifeless-looking . . . like the color of old parchment.

HERE'S A WAKE-UP CREAM FOR YOU

To overcome this sluggishness . . . to give a rosy glow to your complexion . . . you must resolve that you will devote at least as much time to this particular problem as you do to brushing your teeth. And, you must be as diligent in keeping this resolution as you are in obeying a doctor's orders or a dentist's instructions.

Let your face wake up and live with a wake-up cream . . . a skin-clearing cream to brighten and inject a look of freshness in your complexion . . . to rid it of its dullness and faded skin-laziness. This wakeup-cream is the crowning achievement of a noted beautician . . . who discovered her life's work through the distinction which this cream gave to her friends' beauty.

This cream has a story-book story about it . . . for it was prepared according to a formula which has had been a treasured possession of her family for years . . . when she was a medical student in a European university.

While on vacation in Australia . . . she found that her girl companions marveled at the natural smoothness and color of her complexion. Ordinarily even young skins could not stand the burning sun and the hot drying winds of that difficult Australian climate . . . yet this beauty's complexion was clear and wide-awake and sparkling.

For every single day of her young life she used this wake-up cream . . . this special skin clearing cream. She had to send home for more and more jars . . . foregoing her allowance for these jars of wake-up cream . . . that her friends might reap its lush goodness and benefits.

CREAM HAS HELPED THOUSANDS

And, as they used it, it did for them what it had done for her . . . this extraordinary cream which is still one of this beautician's most important aids to skin beauty. The experience was a revelation to her . . . and her scientific curiosity which had first led her into the study of medicine . . . was turned into the channels of chemistry with all the knowledge it had to reveal concerning the structure and care of the skin.

And so from a personal adventure she turned her talents into a cosmetic business which has helped to change the lives of thousands of women . . . lifting them out of mediocrity to facial distinction and loveliness. And a jar costs only one dollar.

To be sure your make-up is not hiding a faulty complexion . . . start out on your beauty care with a daily diet of this wake-up cream.

For the name of this wake-up cream, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WAKE UP YOUR SKIN WITH a wake-up cream . . . to give your complexion that young, fresh, clear and smooth look . . . to greet spring as firm and fragrant as a rosebud. This remarkable cosmetic . . . the one which started a noted beautician on her career . . . was a treasured formula in her family for years . . . which she shared with school chums before embarking on an international enterprise. Beauteous Columbia Star Leslie Brooks poses.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

DON'T CROSS KNEES!—If your dress is fashionably short with a narrow skirt, don't cross your knees!

Wait for War's End

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I'm 18 years old and in love with a man of 27. He divorced his wife because she was disloyal and he has custody of his son. He's in the service now and I've known him only for a few months, but I'm sure I love him. He knows I care for him, and says he could care for me, but he doesn't want to get married again.

Should I stop seeing him and try to forget him? Please help me decide. L.

A good many men have protested they don't want to marry. Still we find ourselves congratulating the happy pair and sending wedding presents.

But have you considered that at 18 years of age, you would be assuming a sizable responsibility in becoming the stepmother of a child, and certainly you have plenty of time to wait. Why not see if he comes back from the war with the same ideas.

Short Girls Get Break

By BETTINA BEDWELL

IN SOME WAYS the little girl, who is shorter than most and slim, is favored by the current styles. She can wear them with ease. The slim lines and the simplicity of the clothes make her look taller and better. But if she has a little too much flesh, then her work is cut out for her in picking what to wear.

In general, I think the very short girl should avoid the suit with a short, short jacket. It cuts her up-and-down silhouette lines in the wrong place. She should, rather, choose a soft but molded hip-length jacket for her suit. If she is heavy, this is the best choice, too.

The little girl can wear a topcoat and dress as well as anybody, but her topcoat should be a little longer than some, so as to give her an effect of height. The unbroken lines of the dress are better for her, in most cases, than the waist and skirt effect.

Easter Menus

By MARTHA LEE

READY IN THE MARKET for our Easter tables is a plentiful supply of white potatoes, cabbage, beets carrots, turnips and cauliflower.

And for flavor, color and vitamins galore, there are such spring salad ingredients as lettuce, tomatoes and celery, radishes and scallions.

Grapfruit, oranges and avocados are moderately available, too, and though still quite high, there are more baskets of strawberries displayed. So all in all, there is ample material to liven up our menus this week.

SCALLOPED BEETS

3 tbsp. flour
2 tbsp. melted fat
1 cup water
6 tbsp. lemon juice
½ cup vinegar ¼ tsp. sugar
2 cups sliced, cooked beets
6 bacon strips

Mix flour into fat, gradually add water, lemon juice and vinegar, stirring until smooth; add sugar and cook until thickened, stirring frequently. Arrange beets in greased baking dish, pour sauce over them and lay strips of bacon on top. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 15 to 20 minutes, or until bacon is crisp. Makes 6 servings.

YELLOW TURNIPS WITH CHEESE

2 lbs. diced yellow turnips
⅓ cup grated cheese

Cook turnips until tender; drain thoroughly; mash up well, then fold in the cheese and season with salt and pepper, if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

SPRING SALAD

1 clove garlic
1 large head lettuce
⅓ cup sliced radishes
⅓ cup sliced, pared carrots (2 carrots)
3 scalions, sliced
1 hard-cooked egg, shelled and sliced ½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. sugar Speck pepper
⅓ tsp. celery seed
5 tbsp. salad oil
3 tbsp. lemon juice

Rub a large salad bowl with the clove of garlic, cut in half. Break the lettuce into 12 pieces, then place it in the bowl with the radishes, carrots, scallions, and egg. Just before serving, combine and add remaining ingredients. Serve at the table, tossing the salad well. Makes 6 servings. Tomato sections and sliced cucumbers may be added, if desired.

CAULIFLOWER AND ORANGE SALAD

¾ cup shredded raw cauliflower flowerets
¾ cup diced orange sections
¾ cup diced celery
3 tbsp. minced green pepper
½ tsp. salt
Few drops onion juice
Salad greens French dressing

Combine cauliflower, orange sections and celery, green pepper, salt and onion juice, and chill. Marinate with French dressing if desired. Place on individual plates on a salad green and serve with French dressing. Makes 6 salads.

FLORIDA FRUIT SALAD

1 pkg. pineapple-flavored gelatin
1 cup water Dash of salt
½ cup grapefruit juice
½ cup orange juice
2 cups diced grapefruit
Watercress
1 cup sliced strawberries
Grapefruit sections
Mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in water according to package directions, add salt and fruit juices. Pour thin layer of dissolved gelatin in mold lightly greased with oil; chill until firm. Arrange grapefruit and a few sprigs of watercress or gelatin, cover with additional gelatin and chill until almost firm. Arrange strawberries on top and around sides and cover completely with remaining gelatin; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with additional watercress and grapefruit sections. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

80 Amateur Ring Kings To Battle in Nationals

By JACK CONWAY

"TAM" SHEEHAN, who has been associated with amateur boxing in New England for many years, will stage his most important promotion when he directs the national championships at the Garden on Monday and Tuesday nights of next week. "Tam" has the enthusiastic support of Gene Driscoll, Tom Kanaly, George Freeman, Johnny Martin and other persons high in the councils of amateur athletics.

It is with considerable pride that Sheehan announces 10 A. A. U. associations have already signified their intentions of sending teams to Boston. It is likely that this number will be increased before the tournament gets under way.

Tam Sheehan

"It looks as if we shall have 80 of the best amateur boxers in the country tossing leather in the Garden ring on Monday and Tuesday," said Sheehan. "There will be numerous Golden Glove champions on the list. The New Orleans and Detroit boxers are particularly classy."

Boston has supported the national amateur championships better than any other city. The fans in this part of the country like to watch the action the simon pures always furnish.

New England will be represented by a full team. Most of its members will be service men, and they are confident they will give a good account of themselves against the mitt flingers from other sections of the country.

Mulligan on Card

JIMMY MULLIGAN of Lowell, former All-America champion, will appear on the supporting card to the Joe Sulick-Sammy Daniels bout at Mechanics Building on next Thursday night under the direction of the Callahan A. C. Mulligan has shown improvement in recent ring starts. Matchmaker Eddie Mack is expected to name Mulligan's opponent today.

Howard Thompson, Saugus heavyweight, will also box at Mechanics Building. He will be sent against the best available opponent.

Sulick comes here with 38 straight wins, and he will strive to add Daniels to his list of victims.

Seaman Against Shanks

MATCHMAKER RIP Valenti of the Goodwin Club has matched Johnny Seaman and Wilfie Shanks for the eight-round semi-final to the Izzy Jannazzo-Wilfie Shanks bout at the Garden on next Friday night. Shanks is one of the best punchers to show in Boston this season, and he will test Seaman's ability to take a sock.

Jannazzo, as a result of the impressive showing he made in his last Boston bout against Ralph Zanelli, has been installed a slight favorite over Larry Anzalone in the feature tussle of 10 rounds. Jannazzo is a fast, shifty boxer, and in the opinion of the fans he outscored the rugged Zanelli.

Anzalone is a better hitter than Jannazzo as he proved when he recently stopped Bill Tordiglione.

Girls to Seek Jobs

YOU WILL SEE one of the biggest rushes for jobs at a race track in the history of New England when Suffolk Downs starts taking applications for girl mutuel clerks. Earl Gibson, manager of the mutuel department at the East Boston track, is expected to receive 2000 applications from members of the fair sex who wish to take over the ticket batteries in the mutuel department.

The girl clerks will receive $42 a week as sellers and $48 a week as cashiers.

Suffolk Downs, in view of changing war conditions, has not stated how many girls will be employed. It is understood, however, that at least 60 girls will be placed on the windows in the mezzanine of the grandstand. If there are large calls by the government on men clerks, the girl clerks will also be used in other parts of the East Boston mutuel plant.

It is pointed out that most of the moving picture houses have been successful using girl ticket sellers. They have shown speed and accuracy in handling tickets and money.

Narragansett Park intends to follow its policy of employing men mutuel clerks. It has received hundreds of applications for berths at the spring meeting that opens on next Wednesday.

Braves Break Camp

By BILL GRIMES

WALLINGFORD, Ct., April 6—After a three-week training period, the Braves were set to break camp today, following a game with Choate School, and move into New York.

Road Secretary Duffy Lewis left on an early afternoon train for Gotham with about 10 players and Manager Bob Coleman and the rest of the squad depart after the ball game.

During the stay here, Pres. Bob Quinn and Manager Coleman have been concerned over Phil Masi, the Braves' pepper box catcher. Masi was about 15 pounds under his playing weight when he reported. He was drawn and didn't show the hustle and drive that he displayed in other training camps.

TIRELESS WORKER

A year ago, Phil Masi weighed 193 when he came here and despite the daily grind he subjected himself to, he tipped the beam at 202 when the Braves broke camp.

Back in 1939, Masi went to Bradenton, Fla., with the Braves as a batting practice catcher. He was scheduled to go to Evansville or Hartford but was such a tireless worker that Manager Casey Stengel decided to keep him with the club and have Al Lopez school him in the art of big league catching.

Unlike many ball players, Masi continued to give his all after he became a fixture with the club. Like Whitey Weitelmann, Masi is the type of player who cannot remain idle when he's in uniform.

Soon after Masi reported here, the players began to comment on his actions. He wasn't the Masi who had come up the hard way by being the first man on the field and the last to leave, even passing up lunch to get in some extra batting practice.

Until last winter, Masi worked in the open or in cold meat market during the off seasons. At the close of the 1943 season, he secured a position in a Chicago Radar plant operating a lathe. With nothing more strenuous to do than standing at a machine when the holidays rolled around, Masi was over the 200 pound mark. Then, he went on a diet and held to it so religiously that in two and a half months he shed more than 25 pounds.

NUMBER ONE CATCHER

He was down to 173 when he reported here but by easing up on his diet Phil has put on about 10 pounds and says that he is only two or three pounds under his normal playing weight.

Phil was down both physically and mentally until he had been examined by Dr. William R. Wrang last Monday. Since then, he has shown some improvement but is still worried because he tires quickly. That condition is easily explained. He has been forcing himself. In other words, he has been displaying false pep.

Phil Masi is the No. 1 catcher. It would be a serious blow to the Braves if he were forced out of the lineup, leaving Clyde Kluttz as the lone receiver.

Manager Coleman is particularly anxious to have Masi in old time physical condition. Coleman plans to use Phil in the outfield, if the opposition starts to serve his club a steady diet of left hand pitchers. So, until the regular seasons get started, Coleman will rest up Masi as much as possible and expects that Phil will be ready when the bell rings.

54 in Race

Entries received by Director Tom Heggarty, including those of Pvt. Ed Cook, U. S. Marines, and Ensign Stanley Tibbetts, U. S. Navy, have boosted the starting field to 54 for the 34th annual running of the 10-mile Cathedral Club road race over the streets of the South End and South Boston.

Cook, winner of the time prize last year, ran under the colors of the Norfolk Young Men's Ass'n before joining the Armed forces.

Everett to Open Baseball Work

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Everett High School's baseball team, stripped of all of its veteran material with but one exception, will report officially to Coach Dennie Gildea Monday afternoon at the Everett Stadium with plenty of practice ahead if the team hopes to reach its high peak of last season in the Greater Boston League.

Coach Gildea will have only Conrad Pensavalle, a second baseman last season, to start out with . . . a crackerjack on the diamond, Pensavalle may get a shot at pitching this season if the mound staff fails to live up to expectations . . . there'll be no spring football at Everett.

Coaches Eddie Melanson and Johnnie Dell Isola will meet candidates for the football team at Malden, Monday . . . with Izzie Yodlin in the backfield and with Dell Isola moulding the line, the Golden Tornado shapes up already as a top notch grid outfit . . . the former Dartmouth coach will probably take over most of the football practice while Melanson works with the baseball prospects . . . the Malden nine is badly in need of pitchers and catchers.

Coach Bill McLaughlin of Rindge Tech is moaning the loss of Shortstop Augie Messouri as he works his squad at Hoyt Field, Cambridge . . . Messouri, a clever infielder as a junior last season, quit school to join up with the Chicago Cubs farm system . . . a left-handed hitter, Messouri may be grabbed in the draft before he can reach the big leagues . . . and he'll have lost his chance for a high school diploma.

Watch for an important shift at Medford High shortly concerning the energetic Faculty Manager Dick Phelan . . . the former Holy Cross star may be taking up the reins as a football coach in a local school shortly.

Chi Clubs in Preview For School Students

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Chicago's major league baseball teams will put on a pre-season preview for the city's high school students in a war bond game April 17.

Although there are more than 125,000 high school students, admission to the game will be to the first 40,000 students who sell bonds for their tickets.

To the school selling the most bonds a complete baseball outfit will be given to members of its team.

Sox Try New Shortstop

By JOE CASHMAN

PHILADELPHIA, April 6—The Red Sox opened each of the last three seasons with a different shortstop and, from present indications, they'll embark on this campaign with still another guy in the all-important infield position.

It was Mgr. Joe Cronin in '41, Johnny Pesky in '42 and Eddie Lake last spring. This year it promises to be Lamar "Skeeter" Newsome.

Lake still is one of the Fenway family but, delayed in getting a release from a war plant job in California, the diminutive ex-Cardinal hasn't yet reported for practice.

Eddie is expected to show up before the bell rings but there's small chance that he'll be in shape to play by April 18.

IN GREAT SHAPE

For that matter, if he were here now battling for the job, it's doubtful whether he could win it.

Newsome, you may recall, took the berth away from his adversary before last season was very old, and the veteran hasn't slipped a bit.

Not reporting until last Friday, "Skeeter" was in such great shape after a winter spent on the West Coast that he was able to play nine innings on Saturday and came back to play another complete game on Monday.

They've been writing this little Georgian's baseball obituary for years but he goes on merrily confounding the boys as he approaches his 33d birthday.

When he broke in with the Athletics almost a decade ago, it was agreed he couldn't hit well enough to make the grade.

But he hung on by virtue of his remarkable defensive abilities.

SKULL FRACTURED

Then he got beaned. His skull was fractured. Doctors said he would never play again. Connie Mack took their word for it and turned him loose.

The very next season "Skeeter" popped up in the Eastern League. He was "beaned" a second time. He suffered a second fracture worse than the first.

Now physicians warned he'd be taking his life in his own hands if he ever again stepped on a diamond. His scalp, by this time, was a combination of skin, bone, wire and silver plate.

Yet Lamar kept continuing to play. He played his way up from the Eastern League.

Fordham Grid Star Signed by Giants

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 6 (INS)—Steve Filipowicz, former Fordham football star, was signed by the New York Giants.

Recently discharged from the U. S. Marines because of a paralyzed nerve in his hand, Filipowicz has been working out with the Giants and last Saturday got two hits in as many trips to the plate against the Orioles in an exhibition game.

Gumbert Set to Win 100th Major Contest

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Harry Gumbert, towering pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National League, is getting set to win his 100th major loop game, according to the Associated Press.

The tall guy from Texas is the first of the big league pitchers to reach the nine-inning route, and he did it impressively yesterday in blanking the second team to six hits and a single ninth-inning run.

Gumbert has won 98 games and lost 86 to get over the century mark up early in the season. Only seven pitchers now in the big leagues have reached the 100 mark. Gumbert has proved a fine investment for the Cards since 1941 when Branch Rickey traded "Fiddler" Bill McGee to the Giants for him.

Since then Gumbert has won 30 games and lost 15, and six of his wins were at the expense of the Giants, against two losses. McGee won two and lost nine in 1941 for the Giants, and hasn't been with them since.

Six of yesterday's nine exhibitions were snowed under, but most of the clubs hoped to see action today should the weather clear.

The lowdown on the high spots:

ST. LOUIS: General Manager Bill Dewitt said all Browns now in training have signed contracts, and Manager Luke Sewell grinned madly over the 10-2 victory over Toledo.

WASHINGTON: Weather has been the whammy on the Nationals, and Owner Clark Griffith and Manager Ossie Bluege fear rains, blows and cold have set pitchers back so far back for the team to get off to a good start.

CLEVELAND: Russ Lyon, 200-pound semi-pro catcher, called by Army exam April 17, but may take it Wednesday in Indianapolis when Outfielder Cliff Mapes goes before doctors. Skipper Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner abed with colds.

CHICAGO: Coach Harold (Muddy) Ruel in charge today as Sox meet Cubs in French Lick exhibition. Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich and Orval Grove to pitch—and one of 'em will get season's opening assignment.

NEW YORK: Yanks will try to eliminate today the reasons the Athletics handed them that 9-1 setback yesterday. Outfielder Johnny Lindell gets head X-rayed today in induction test.

PHILADELPHIA: Second-sacker Irving Hall, who hit two doubles and a single in smothering the Yanks, hopes the batting flurry means he'll hoist his .243 batting average of .256.

DETROIT: Paul Trout, who won 20 and lost 12 last year, finally has been nicked for a run, Rochester getting it yesterday. But it was the first marker yielded by Trout in 11 exhibition innings (he pitched five against Rochester) so everyone's satisfied.

PITTSBURGH: Holdout Vince DiMaggio still on fence as prexy Benswanger makes no move after confab on wage demands. Art Cuccurullo, southpaw rookie of Albany, put in 4-F after exam.

PHILADELPHIA: Mgr. Fred Fitzsimmons picks Ken Raffensberger to pitch five frames, and Hoose Fralick four, against Boston Red Sox today.

CHICAGO—Infielder Don Johnson out of week-end games with leg injury. Outfielder Bill Nicholson reports, leaving Outfielder Lou Novikoff, Infielder Roy Hughes and Pitchers Claude Passeau and Hodie Phipps as only absentees.

NEW YOK—Giants, snowbound, stayed in hotel lobby yesterday, but 50 teen-age kids arrived for tryout camp. Steve Filipowicz, former Fordham grid ace, signed contract, and Ernie Lombardi, catcher, arrived from coast.

CINCINNATI—Bucky Walters and Elmer Riddle of the Reds will hurl against their teammates for Indianapolis in an exhibition today, with rookies Bob Ferguson and Jim Konstanty on the hill for the Queen City club.

BROOKLYN — Manager Leo Durocher, 38, intimated he might start season at second base, despite "acorns" in right elbow region.

Hawks, Canucks Clash Tonight

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Chicago's Blackhawks, intent on repeating their Cinderella trick of last week, when they eased the Detroit Redwings out of the Stanley Cup playoffs for the National Hockey League championship, will meet the Montreal Canadiens tonight in the second game of the title series.

The Canadiens, top heavy favorites, won the series opener Tuesday night, 5 to 1, but the Hawks, playing in their first cup final since 1938, promise it'll be a different story this time. A capacity crowd of 18,000 fans will be on hand at the Chicago Stadium to see the Hawks gun for the equalizer.

Harold "Mush" March, Hawk forward who suffered an injured knee against Detroit two weeks ago, will be back in the lineup, Manager Paul Thompson said today, and March's ability to keep the Chicago front lines operating at peak efficiency will play a large role in the battle.

"We'll win one of the games here in Chicago—that I'm sure," Thompson said. "I think we have a chance to win both of them." The Hawks have lost nine and tied two games with the Flying Frenchmen this season.

Bill Lee Wants Regular Hill Turn

BATON ROUGE, La., April 6 (AP)—Bill Lee isn't certain who he'll pitch for this summer, but if it's with the Phils there is one routine—a regular mound turn—he'd like to see worked out for his benefit.

Given this assignment on a four-day basis he believes he can regain the form which made him such a success in former years with the Cubs.

Now he is with the Phillies, and until Uncle Sam requests a change of uniform for the tall Plaquemine, La., athlete, he hopes to get enough work to "get and hold the edge I need to have to win."

Lee, who has been working out for the past few days, appeared in good condition and said that he expected to be en route to the Jays' training camp at Wilmington, Del., next week.

His latest definite data from selective service came with an announcement of impending limited service, but actual date of call seems to be of another matter.

War Bonds Ticket To New York Tracks

NEW YORK, April 6 (INS)—War bonds bought at the gate during any one of the 181 racing days of the New York track season, which opens Saturday, will entitle the purchaser to a free admission ticket, according to a plan announced by the Service Bureau of New York racing bodies.

Under this plan, a $25 or $50 war bond entitles the purchaser to one grandstand ticket for each bond purchased; buyers of $100 or higher denomination bonds will receive one clubhouse ticket for each bond.

Navy OK's Herman

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 6 (INS)—The Navy recruiting station gave Billy Herman, second baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers, a physical O. K. The former Chicago Cub is married and has one son.

Angel Winner Over Terror

"The Angel" Tillet gained the odd fall to emerge the victor over the Golden Terror in the feature wrestling bout on a card at the Arena last night. A crowd of 6000 witnessed the bouts.

The Angel took the first fall in 16:30 with a bear hug and body press, and the Terror evened the match in 9:46 with a toe-hold. The Angel used a body lift and slam in gaining victory at 9:45 of the third outing.

Kemol Abdel Rahman pinned Farmer Mack to the mat in 7:50. Dr. John Murphy and Manuel Cortez went 20 minutes to a draw, and Bob Russell and Jack Claybourne did likewise in 30 minutes.

Ailing Ankle Keeps Gil Out of Penn Meet

An ailing ankle today forced Gil Dodds, new world indoor mile record holder, to refuse the invitation to compete in a special mile at the University of Pennsylvania annual relay carnival April 29.

Dodds sprained his ankle in Cleveland March 24 and although the swelling has gone down, his ankle is still sore. "I couldn't possibly get into condition for the mile at the Penn Relays, as much as I'd like to," said the divinity student.

Dodds stopped in town after a visit with his father in Smithville, O., and left immediately for Erie, Pa., where he has a speaking engagement later this week.
